3F Oil Palm Pvt Ltd, a company engaged in oil palm development, said it has signed a memorandum of understanding with the Karnataka Department of Horticulture to advance sustainable agriculture in rural communities.

The MoU, signed in the presence of Prakash M Sabarad, additional director of horticulture, Karnataka, paves way for transformative support to oil palm cultivators in Udupi, Dakshina Kannada and Sedam taluk of Gulbarga district, a release said.

3F Oil Palm said this partnership will provide farmers with access to advanced agricultural technologies, training programmes, and essential resources to enhance productivity and support Karnataka's growing horticultural sector. The company plans to introduce state-of-the-art cultivation practices, focusing on sustainable growth and community empowerment.

3F Oil Palm Pvt Ltd will oversee area expansion, nursery development, sprout procurement, and seedling cultivation within the designated zones.

This effort aims to increase palm oil productivity, create economic growth, and empower farmers with sustainable knowledge, offering a model for long-term agricultural success in Karnataka.

In a statement, Srinivasarao Kilari, Head Agriculture, 3F Oil Palm Pvt Ltd, said, "This MoU represents a major milestone, aligning with our mission to uplift local farming communities while setting new benchmarks for sustainable oil palm cultivation."
